

LEFT: "I wanted to create a sense of order but didn't feel the need to design something perfectly symmetrical," Manion says of the rear façade, where picturesque wings flank a formal terrace designed for large-scale entertaining as well as casual family fun.

ABOVE: Directly outside the family room and breakfast room, with close proximity to the kitchen for service, the family terrace provides a place for outdoor dining and barbecuing.